LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

State of Washington, Department of State,
Office of the Secretary.

Olympia, Washington, November 1, 1926.

Roland H. Hartley, Governor:

Sir: I have the honor to submit herewith to you, and through you to the Honorable State Legislature, a report of the business of this department for the biennial period ending September 30, 1926.

Respectfully submitted,

J. GRANT HINKLE,

Secretary of State.

NINETEENTH BIENNIAL REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.

The record for the office of the Secretary of State for the biennium ending September 30, 1926, shows a continued growth. It reflects in this growth the steady increase of business developing and being carried on in the state of Washington.

Without effort on the part of the state to tell the world of our attractions rivaling either California or Florida, we seem content to let any who will come and see for himself. If he likes our state he remains. If he does not, no voice will be lifted to induce him to stay.

The State of Washington continues to receive desirable business from foreign corporations, who are now able to domesticate themselves under present corporation laws. This particularly applies to corporations in eastern states that use stock having no par value. Our legislative enactments have made it possible for this class of business by enacting non par privileges for our domestic corporations. This overcomes the constitutional bar which would not permit a foreign corporation to do business on more favorable terms than a domestic. Now both foreign and domestic are given the same privilege, and business comes to our state that heretofore was barred.

Serious objections were made by foreign corporations on the method of arriving at the annual license fee. The legislature placed the figures for reckoning, so that this office must figure on the authorized capitalization. The decisions of courts is that doing business in the State of Washington is a privilege which foreign corporations may accept on conditions imposed or reject them if not satisfactory.

Since the office of the Secretary of State contains the only record of the authorized capitalization, and of the increases and decreases of the capital of corporations it therefore becomes the duty of this office to audit every remittance made for the payment of a corporation license fee before the license department can write the license.

During the past biennium this office examined remittance sums and approved for license issue to corporations the sum of.....$1,050,992 49

OTHER FEES COLLECTED BY THIS OFFICE.

Filing fees from corporations during biennium	$281,844 10
Certified copies of articles of incorporation and miscellaneous items	7,567 39
Collected corporation licenses on original filings	99,344 75
Received from reinstatement fees	2,750 00
From filing fees for corporations under Blue Sky law	23,133 00
Corporation license fees under Blue Sky law	7,327 00
Issuer's permits to corporations selling stock under Blue Sky law	9,025 00
Broker's permits under Blue Sky law	3,530 00
Agent's permits under Blue Sky law	6,237 00
Total receipts from all sources	$440,758 24

The total appropriations for the biennium for all purposes in the various departments of the office of Secretary of State were $117,600.

The receipts are given only to October 1, 1926. This makes a very satisfactory showing in that for every dollar appropriated the office has already turned into the State Treasury almost $3.75. There are yet six months remaining in the fiscal year, and the receipts yet to be derived will make well over $4.00 earned for every $1.00 appropriated.

BUREAU OF STATISTICS AND IMMIGRATION.

Inquiries continue to come to this department as the state becomes more developed and as the fact becomes known throughout eastern states that there is an area yet to be developed, that challenges the young men of the country.

Our mountains challenge the mining man to find and profit by the wealth they contain. The electrical engineer will find hundreds of mountain torrents roaring an open defi—daring him to harness them for light, heat and power. The civil engineer will find his field in road work and development in the various counties. Irrigation districts as now proposed form projects equaling the cost of the Panama Canal, and embracing area as large as our New England people call a state. Foreign trade shows an annual growth that surprises and pleases.

The seaports on our shores are nearest to the Orient. Trade follows the line of shortest distance and speediest delivery. Established steamship lines make all the ports of the world and clear from our ports with our products coastwise and through Panama Canal.

The world in the making lifted our shore lines, so that nothing short of a tidal wave can inundate. Our state lies peacefully in the lap of nature. Blizzards seek larger open spaces in which to expend their fury, and cyclones are unknown.

The State of Washington should tell the world where they can be best served and that in the briefest period of time. Publicity distributed under state authority and bearing the Seal of The State of Washington is accepted where no other might be given consideration. Appropriations for publicity become investments, not expenditures.

New people with resources sufficient to finance themselves, and to place new property on the tax rolls are an asset. An investment in new people is the shortest road to tax reduction.

In the matter of statistics, there is scarcely a week passes that some interested person does not call for figures on lumber, fruit, hay, grain, fish, hogs, cattle, sheep and horses. Business men want to organize a Bank and Trust company and write for the population of the city or town in which they wish to locate. To these inquiries we have to acknowledge our inability to obtain the information, and to refer them to the Federal Bureaus. The framers of our constitution recognized the worth of statistics, but it appears the idea is passing along with them.

My recommendation is that an investment of not less than $50,000 for each biennium be made for publicity in the Department of Statistics and Immigration.

INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM.

During the last biennium there was appropriated the sum of $33,000 to carry on any work that might come before this branch of the office of Secretary of State.

We were fortunate in that nothing had to be mailed out to the registered voters except the two constitutional amendments which have to do with forestation and the increase of salaries to members of the Legislature.

The expense thus far has been less than $10,000. Attention is called to the state constitution, in its provision for publishing these amendments in at least one paper in each county. As no enactment has been passed repealing either one of the provisions, the amendments are being published as provided in the constitution, and they are also being circulated under the provisions of the initiative and referendum. Here is a duplication wherein a saving of nearly $10,000 may be made if the Legislature chooses.

SECURITIES DEPARTMENT.

(Blue Sky Law.)

The Securities Act has now been in effect over three years. This is therefore the first report that could be made for a full biennium.

The appropriations made for the enforcement of the Securities Act have limited me to an insufficient number of employees for this department. This has made it almost impossible to keep abreast of the applications for permits and certificates, let alone taking care of many other duties required under the Act. Therefore it has been impossible to compile much in the way of statistics in regard to the operation of the Act and the sale of securities in this state. I believe that such information, were it made available, would be well worth while, especially at this time when practically every city is having a survey made in regard to the financing and establishment of new industries.

It has been possible to compile some general figures, however, and these will at least give some information in regard to the enforcement of the Act.

Appropriations available to this department during the biennium have totaled $27,500.00. This after providing for printing, postage, traveling and other necessary expenses, has permitted the employment of a staff of four, consisting of a chief examiner, auditor, inspector, and stenographer. The immense task that confronts this inadequate staff can best be illustrated by the following figures showing the applications passed upon during the last biennium:

Total applications for issuer's permits	494
Total applications denied, withdrawn, and otherwise not receiving permits	140
Total issuer's permits granted (which includes 11 applications filed in the previous biennium)	365

The total par or selling price for which authority was requested in these applications is as follows:

Total applications for permits to sell stocks and bonds	$615,462,236 50
Total applications denied, withdrawn and otherwise not receiving permits	90,569,238 00
Total permits granted for sale of stocks and bonds	526,256,098 50

The above amounts cannot of course be taken as a basis of determining the total amount of securities sold in this state during the past two years, since there are issues included that are offered simultaneously in other states. The Securities Act makes no provision for the filing of reports by issuers as to the securities actually sold within the state.

In addition to issuers' applications examined during the biennium there have been 1,108 agent's and 84 broker's certificates granted.

The fees paid during the biennium for the filing of applications for issuer's permits, broker's certificates, agents's certificates, and the renewal of broker's and agent's certificates, as well as corporation fees and licenses that were collected as a result of the enforcement of the Securities Act have totaled $49,252.00. This when compared with the total appropriations of $27,500 for the biennium shows that the Securities Department is more than earning its own way. The department has six months yet remaining to operate under the appropriation.

No one will deny that a more rigid enforcement of the Act, especially with respect to agents, brokers, and companies who are wilfully violating or evading the law, is imperative. This is not only for the protection of the investing public but to restore confidence in securities which must be sold to establish industry and to develop our resources, a confidence that has been sadly shaken by the unrestrained promotions of the past. More rigid enforcement cannot be accomplished until the Securities Department is sufficiently manned to permit of not only prompt attention being given to applications for permits and certificates but to enable the Department to keep close check on the violators and evaders of the law. Fortunately this added activity need not be at the expense of the public, even though much to the benefit of the public, for the resulting increase of filing fees collected should enable the Department to continue to earn its way.

The following figures will show the work done by this Department from the time the Act went into effect, June 7, 1923, to the end of the biennium covered by this report:

Total applications for issuer's permits	961
Total applications denied, withdrawn, and otherwise not receiving permits	233
Total issuer's permits granted	365
Total applications in amount	$755,211,741 28
Total applications denied, etc.	110,891,494 52
Total permits granted	$644,320,246 76
Total agent's certificates granted	2,026
Total broker's certificates granted	212
Agent's certificates in effect September 30, 1926	625
Broker's certificates in effect September 30, 1926	108

Legitimate mining continues to suffer from the open season for all "fly-by-nights" from other states as well as Mexico and British Columbia. The exemption of metalliferous mining from our Securities Act shakes the confidence of investors. They write to this office from states having blue sky laws only to find no reports can be had from mining corporations in the State of Washington. The investor who should aid in the development of the mining industry is therefore turning to other fields.

ARCHIVES COMMITTEE.

The Secretary of State is chairman of this committee. The Superintendent of Public Instruction and the State Insurance Commissioner complete the committee of three. Caring for records obsolete or only occasionally called for, under the law governing this committee becomes their duty. Up to this time no appropriation has been made for the functioning of this committee, and each year more records are piled away in the city dump—a basement room, with no one in charge. The Archives Committee under these conditions, refuses to be held liable for any loss or damage to records consigned to this room.

Investigation in other states show cataloguing and indexing of records so that as time pases and officials die, facts may be preserved that are essential. One office takes charge of records from all the state offices after five years and all inquiries dating back of a five-year period are immediately sent to the Archives Department for reply. In another state whose courthouses are not of the highest preservative type for records, the county officials send all their records not regularly called for, on account of the Capitol Building being practically fire proof. Now that we have ample space in the new Capitol for such records, and a practically fire proof safeguard this department should function as intended by law. The recommendation for shelving, steel cabinets and card index systems is in the sum of $10,000.

UNITED STATES SENATORS DURING STATEHOOD.

Washington became a state in 1889. Senators were elected as follows in January, 1890, and took oath of office March 4 of the same year:

Watson C. Squire	For One Year
John B. Allen	For Three Years

In 1891 Watson C. Squire was reelected for six years and was succeeded March 4, 1897, by George Turner, whose term expired March 4, 1903, and who was succeeded by Levi Ankey, whose term expired March 4, 1909. Wesley L. Jones succeeded Levi Ankeny for the term ending March 4, 1915. John B. Allen's term expired March 4, 1893, when no election was had owing to the deadlock in the legislature. Governor McGraw appointed Mr. Allen, but the U. S. Senate refused to seat him, and Mr. Squire was therefore the only representative of the State of Washington in the U. S. Senate until March 4, 1895, when John L. Wilson was elected and took the oath of office to fill the unexpired term of four years, when he was succeeded March 4, 1899, by Addison G. Foster, whose term expired March 4, 1905, and who in turn was succeeded by Samuel F. Piles, whose term expired March 4, 1911. Senator Piles was succeeded by Miles Poindexter, whose second term expired March 4, 1923. Wesley L. Jones was reelected November 3, 1914, to serve until March 4, 1921, and again on November 2, 1920, to serve to March 4, 1927. C. C. Dill was elected November 7, 1922, to serve to March 4, 1929.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

State of Washington, Department of State
Office of the Secretary.

Hon. Roland H. Hartley, Governor:

Sir: I have the honor to submit herewith to you, and through you to the Honorable, the State Legislature, a report on the Department of State for the biennium ending September 30, 1928.

Respectfully submitted,

J. GRANT HINKLE,
Secretary of State.

TWENTIETH BIENNIAL REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.

Beginning October 1, 1926, and Ending September 30, 1928.

The most notable event of this biennium was the moving of the office of the Department of State from the old Capitol Building to the splendid Administration Building on March 28, 1928. The spacious quarters in this splendid building give ample room to do business in the various departments in a manner pleasing to the public and gratifying to the officials in charge. Already the new Capitol Building has become a mecca for lovers of the beautiful in architecture and splendid furnishings. Tourists and sightseers from all parts of the world visit this magnificent Capitol Building. A congressional delegation led by Nicholas Longworth took time out sufficient to go through the building, having the Chief Executive for guide and informant. They appeared wonderfully pleased and greatly surprised when told by the Governor that the Capitol land grant would provide funds for the payment of our Capitol buildings, thus relieving the taxpayers of this burden. The building will prove one of the great attractions of the State.

Each year the desire of foreign corporations to domesticate themselves in Washington increases. They are a splendid barometer of the business advantages of the Northwest. A branch office will produce satisfactory returns in almost any line of business in this rapidly developing section of the United States. The receipts for the past biennium from foreign corporations domesticating themselves in Washington were as follows:

For filing Articles of Incorporation	$ 95,821.75
License fees legally required	15,895.00
Total	$111,716.75

The entire appropriation for the operation of all departments in charge of the Secretary of State for the past biennium was $133,800.00. The total receipts from all sources collected by the Secretary of State were $444,086.67.

This makes a return of well over three dollars for every dollar appropriated. There are yet six months' receipts to be credited against the appropriation, which will no doubt show a return of near four dollars for each dollar appropriated.

BUREAU OF STATISTICS AND IMMIGRATION

Section 34 of Article 3 of the State Constitution of the State of Washington reads: "There shall be established in the office of the Secretary of State, a bureau of statistics, agriculture and immigration, under such regulations as the Legislature may provide." Chapter 85, Laws of 1895, provided for the operation of this department. By reason of the failure of the Legislature to provide funds for this purpose in 1921 there has been no means for answering the many inquiries coming to the office of the Secretary of State. No up-to-date figures can be given on our resources either developed or undeveloped. No estimates on census or other data are available. This is an oversight. Each state has some attraction or opportunity to offer prospective immigrants and they are not slow to broadcast these advantages. New people of substance who place property on the tax rolls are the sure-fire method of reducing taxes. Washington needs new people and should be well up to the forefront in advertising her attractions and opportunities. I have asked for an appropriation of more than $50,000.00 for the coming biennium, this money to be spent in gathering statistics for the information of those making inquiry. Publications containing advantages of this state will be printed and circulated. Newspapers and magazines will be used to obtain inquiries for settlers and manufacturing enterprises. A state without payrolls is an engine without steam. Literature published under state authority will stick when all other sources are discarded. Washington must invest in new people and new enterprises. Washington should at all times be able to supply information concerning the State and its resources.

INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM.

A constitutional amendment proposing to amend Article 7 of the State Constitution relating to revenue and taxation was the only work done under this law. Pamphlets containing a copy of the proposed amendment and the arguments for and against it were mailed to 420,000 voters.

Attention is again called to the fact that the publishing of these constitutional amendments in newspapers of the thirty-nine counties of the state is a duplication of service and a waste of money that should be cared for by proper legislation.

There appears to be less and less of turning to the initiative and referendum law as a means of lawmaking or of abrogating acts passed by the Legislature. Nevertheless when a constitutional amendment is circulated under its provisions it takes the full amount of postage, envelopes, and clerical work demanded for the circulating of initiative and referendum measures. I would recommend that the constitutional provision only apply and that the circulating through the initiative and referendum law be repealed in so far as it applies to changes in our state constitution.

ARCHIVES COMMITTEE.

The archives committee comprises three elective officials, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, Insurance Commissioner and Secretary of State. Each year the records of the various departments increase, and since there is no law for destroying any record they must be kept somewhere.

At present, obsolete records or those not frequently called for are dumped in a basement room in the Temple of Justice building. No funds are available for the placing of some person in charge and for this reason the Archives Committee refuses responsibility for any loss on records placed in this basement room. A request is made for proper indexing and care of these records. The sum of $10,000.00 should be used at once in placing some one in charge and having these records properly indexed and a system installed where they may have orderly arrangement for all records from the various departments.

SECURITIES DEPARTMENT.

(Blue Sky Law.)

Exceptional progress has been made by the Securities Department during the biennium just ended. An increased appropriation made it possible to add to our personnel and to increase the efficiency in general. A resolute stand against unfair promotion and misleading or fraudulent schemes has been maintained. The attack on these has been made even more effective. The result has been an incalculable benefit and saving to the general public.

We have had to deal with an unusual number of new promotions in which the original plan was so designed that the general public would be required to make practically all of the tangible investment, take the risk and take the full shock of a failure if there be one, being at the same time restricted to a limited reward in case the enterprise proved to be a success. The promoters, on the other hand, propose to take to themselves full control of the enterprise and the investment made by the public, avoiding at the same time the real risk in case of failure, and laying claim to the larger profits in case the enterprise were a success. This state of affairs was usually accomplished by classifying the stock as common and preferred, or some similar classification, giving the common stock exclusive voting rights and requiring the preferred stockholders to furnish the capital. Some of these schemes were undoubtedly deliberately designed to take advantage of the investing public. Many others were no doubt developed without any particular intent to be unfair, the organizers having at the same time failed to either understand or give proper attention to the rights and protection to which the general public is entitled.

The Department has adhered to the principle that risk and the management or control should not be divorced or in other words, that those who desire to hold control of a new enterprise should themselves make a substantial investment. The result has been that the type of promoter who has deliberately set out to take advantage of the public and is more interested in the sale of stock than he is in the building and operation of a successful enterprise either abandons his scheme or is denied authority to sell securities. The other type of promoter who really has the future success of the enterprise at heart is glad to revise his plan of organization and finance so that it may become more nearly a square deal for all parties concerned.

It has been interesting to observe that the wildest promotions will invariably make the loudest plea for special consideration as a worthwhile and essential industry. Proper industrial development of the state is exceedingly important. It has been demonstrated in the past that successful industrial development is most frequently the result of a sound financial program. On the other hand, the unfair stock selling schemes which flourished prior to the effective administration of the Securities Act, have shaken the confidence of the investor and undoubtedly retarded industrial development. It has continuously been the policy of the Department to foster and encourage legitimate industrial developments along sound financial lines and to stand in the way of unfair stock selling schemes which present themselves as much needed industries and which, in reality, are designed to exploit the investing public rather than the industrial resources of the state. This policy should have the encouragement and support of every substantial citizen who earnestly desires to see our resources and industrial possibilities properly developed.

It is gratifying to note that fewer attempts are being made to get the Department to act favorably upon an application chiefly because of the prestige, position or standing of those who are, at that time, a part of the management or are otherwise aiding in the promotion. This is the natural result of a fixed policy which requires that the findings be based upon the facts and the showing actually made in the application rather than upon the personal support which the applicant is able to gather. The practice of giving the representatives of the applicant rather full information in regard to our findings and conclusions and of being willing to discuss these matters fully has had the favorable effect of getting many propositions on a fair basis.

In spite of the fact that the Department has taken exception to a great many applications when first filed, it is apparent that very few have felt that the decisions of the Secretary of State were in any way unfair or arbitrary. Only two applicants have felt sufficiently aggrieved as the result of the decision on their application to take advantage of the opportunity to appeal to the courts during the biennium just ended. In one case the appeal was heard and the court sustained the decision of the Secretary of State. In the other instance, notice of appeal was filed but was later withdrawn. One broker and one applicant for a broker's certificate appealed from the decision of the Secretary of State. The broker appealed on account of the suspension and revocation of his broker's certificate. An action was commenced in connection with this appeal, asking for a court order restraining the Secretary of State from enforcing provisions of the Securities Act with respect to brokers on the ground that the law was unconstitutional. This was heard by the Superior Court of Thurston County and the court rendered a decision upholding the constitutionality of the law. This was not appealed. The broker's appeal case was heard and the court requested that briefs be filed. The broker got into further difficulties and the appeal was finally dropped by his attorney. This broker was later convicted for using the mails to defraud and is now serving a term in the federal penitentiary. The applicant for a broker's certificate who appealed was a nonresident and desired to establish an office in the state. Attorney for the applicant broker withdrew the appeal shortly before the time set for hearing. The applicant since formed a corporation and applied for a broker's certificate, which application was denied and no notice of appeal has ever been filed.

There has been a certain amount of criticism and inquiry in regard to the prosecution and conviction of those who wilfully violate the Securities Act or who have committed fraud in the sale of securities. Some have been inclined to hold the Securities Department entirely accountable for any failure to get results along this line. The Securities Act authorizes no action by the Secretary of State where violation occurs and prosecution for such violation, therefore, becomes one of the responsibilities and duties of the various prosecuting attorneys. The prosecuting attorneys have been charged with many added responsibilities in the last decade and as a consequence have had little time to make a careful study of the Securities Act and its requirements and to realize the possibilities it presents in the way of protecting the public. There is ample reason for some hesitancy in undertaking the prosecution for fraud inasmuch as proof of fraud is often highly technical due to questions of intent. It is not generally realized that a violation of the Securities Act does not present these difficulties. Questions of intent do not enter. It is not difficult to prove that a sale was made and that the party making the sale had not complied with the Securities Act. In fact, the great difficulty in enforcing the fraud laws, especially as they are applied to the sale of securities, is one of the principal causes for the general enactment of securities acts.

Feeling that we should assume at least an indirect responsibility with regard to prosecution, the Department has undertaken to encourage prosecutions for fraud in the sale of securities and for violations of the Securities Act. We have gathered, whenever possible, evidence of fraud in the sale of securities and of deliberate violations of the Securities Act. We have then secured all the additional evidence possible and certified the record thus accumulated to the prosecuting attorney in the county in which the crime was committed, with the request that the prosecuting attorney give the matter such attention or take such action as he felt the circumstances warranted. With this went an assurance that the Department would be glad to render, as far as possible, any further assistance that might be requested and this without expense to the county. Many of the prosecuting attorneys took a very active interest in the resulting campaign against those who sought to victimize the public by means of fraud in the sale of securities or by violation of the Securities Act. A number of arrests, prosecutions and convictions have been the result and as a consequence the state has become a less tempting field for the operations of the financial pirates who make it a practice of going from state to state and taking the hard-earned money of citizens by means of fraud in the sale of securities. This co-operation with the prosecuting attorneys is being carried on, however, in a limited way, due to lack of proper facilities. This is an exceedingly important problem. The records, as appearing in our files, will be found very interesting by any one who seeks a more satisfactory solution.

The following shows the number of applications for permits to issue and dispose of securities which were filed during the biennium commencing October 1, 1926, and ending September 30, 1928, the kinds of securities covered by such applications and the action taken:

360	Applications filed for permits to sell—
	Common Stock	$ 23,544,934.17
	Preferred Stock	60,004,218.34
	Bonds, etc.	106,119,000.00
			$189,668,152.51
	Deduct:
264	Permits granted authorizing sale of—
	Common Stock	$ 23,853,961.24
	Preferred Stock	33,780,110.00
	Bonds, etc.	82,738,000.00
			140,372,071.24
96	Applications filed, but permits thereby applied for not granted		$ 49,296,081.27*

* The item of $49,296,081.27 represents applications for permits which were denied, withdrawn or abandoned by applicants, and a few applications in the process of examination.

The following shows the number of applications filed and the filing fees received by the Department during the biennium:

Applications for permits to issue and dispose of securities—
236 applications at $25.00 each	$5,900.00
124 applications at $10.00 each	1,240.00
360		$7,140.00
Applications for brokers' certificates—
233 applications at $25.00 each		5,825.00
Brokers' certificates renewed—
200 renewals at $10.00 each		2,000.00
Applications for agents' certificates—
1160 applications at $5.00 each		5,800.00
Agents' certificates renewed—
543 renewals at $2.00 each		1,086.00
		$21,851.00

The above are only the fees received as provided for in the Securities Act. The activities in the Securities Department are also responsible for the collection of a large amount of corporation fees. Foreign corporations who frequently establish brokerage offices in the state are required to comply with the Securities Act but at the same time are required to comply with the Corporation Law and pay the necessary fee. This includes many large eastern investment houses whose incorporation and license fees are large items. It is the policy of the Department to require all corporations which hold permits to issue and dispose of securities to keep their annual corporation license fees paid. This results in the payment of many delinquent fees. Inspectors and examiners for the Department are frequently discovering organizations in existence that have not complied with the corporation laws and both the incorporation and license fees are brought in as a result. Many corporations using non-par stock fail to make a correct affidavit in regard to the amount received and to be received for the issuance of such non-par stock. This is discovered in case the corporation makes an application for a permit to issue and dispose of its securities because at that time the corporation is required to make a full financial showing and to make any corrections necessary with respect to its non-par stock. The Securities Department has not attempted to keep or compile a record in regard to these corporation fees collected and is, therefore, unable to report the amount. The report of the collection of corporation fees will take this item into account.

The Department is obliged to do a great amount of work for which no fees can be collected. The volume of this work increases and doubles as our accumulation of records increases and doubles. We are obliged to answer a great many inquiries from citizens who are stockholders in a particular enterprise or who have been solicited to purchase securities. We must encourage rather than discourage these inquiries inasmuch as they are frequently the source of much valuable information which can be used and developed for the benefit of the general public. Controversies among groups of stockholders arise and threaten to disrupt the entire enterprise. Managements sometimes fail to work for the best interests of stockholders and seek to take advantage of them rather than to work for or protect their interests. Frequently both sides to such controversies will appeal to this office. While we have no jurisdiction over such matters, we cannot ignore such appeals for by having the confidence of both groups we are frequently able to assist in finding a remedy for the situation. There is an increasing tendency among attorneys and others to confer with representatives of the Department on proposed enterprises, thus getting the benefit of the experience the Department has had with a great many plans of organization and finance. Many of these of course finally take form and pay the fee necessary to file an application. Many others are not carried through for a great variety of reasons and as a consequence no fees are received. While the Department might be justified in refusing to discuss plans of finance until an application has been filed, this is regarded as being an inadvisable and even an arbitrary stand. Such conferences frequently result in new enterprises being put on the proper basis with regard to the rights and protection of the general public and it is much less difficult to make these changes in the beginning rather than after the enterprise has actually taken root, when it is difficult to make proper revision. This also permits of the discouraging of many unfair schemes in the very beginning before any damage has been done.

Certain sections of the Securities Act place a heavy burden upon the Department and at the same time make no provision for fees. Permits and certificates must be revoked or suspended under certain circumstances. However, this cannot be done without the most careful investigation and it often requires a considerable expenditure in time and money to get at the true facts. The law requires that all advertisements, circulars, pamphlets, prospectuses or advertising matter of any description issued by agents and brokers must be filed in the office of the Secretary of State and makes it the duty of the Secretary of State to order the discontinuance of the use of such literature in case he finds that it contains any false or misleading statements. The law also provides the means whereby he can secure additional information from the broker which will assist in determining the truth or falsity of any particular representation. Any one who has dealt with even one investment house and has received the literature which has been distributed by such a house, will realize that the examination of all such literature circulated in the state would be an enormous task. Since the public must rely upon this literature for its information in regard to particular investments, the Department has endeavored to devote as much time to this as possible.

As was pointed out previously, time has been devoted to gathering evidence of violation of the Securities Act and of fraud in the sale of securities and of assisting wherever possible in any action taken in this respect. These investigations are tedious and often require a great amount of time and ingenuity.

The courts all over the country have identified the various securities acts as the proper exercise of the police power of the state. Therefore, perhaps it is too much to expect those who are policed to provide all of the funds necessary through the payment of fees. I have mentioned a few of the many duties which must be performed but for which no fee can be collected. It is probable that no fee could be collected for the majority of these and after all, they are for the direct benefit of the general public who in turn are amply remunerated by the reduction in losses resulting from the fraudulent sale of securities.

A number of suggestions or recommendations might be offered with the idea of increasing the efficiency of the Department and making its work of even greater benefit to the general public.

The work of the examiners and inspectors who make the detailed examinations and investigations is difficult and arduous. They must devote much of their own time to research and study in order to be able to unravel and to combat many wonderfully designed schemes. They are entitled to commendation and award in the way of salary increases. The state has an investment in a trained and efficient employe and should protect that investment by making continued employment attractive.

The Department is constantly confronted with so many tasks that there is continuously a crying need for additional help. We have only one inspector to keep check on the activities of the agents and brokers all over the state and to investigate and report on violations of the Securities Act. There should be at least two additional inspectors so that one might work out of Spokane, one in Seattle working throughout the northwestern part of the state, the third working out of this office in southwestern Washington and wherever needed.

Much can be gained by close co-operation with other states and having the facilities with which to carry on such co-operation. The problems are much the same in every state and each state should profit greatly by what has been accomplished in other states. It seems useless to drive the financial pirate from state to state and to make it possible for him to take his toll from each state before he is driven out, when by close co-operation between the states, he might be eliminated entirely. The National Association of Securities Commissioners has done much effective work along these lines and has worked out solutions for many of the common problems. This co-operative movement should be encouraged for it will result in a great saving to each of the individual states.
